

TECHNICAL DATA SHEET

Revision: 4

Edition: June/2024

STANLUX PELL GOLD 130

- Fine bronze powder pigment in pellet form, that have facility to disperse in solvents like ethyl acetate or ethyl alcohol and to avoid dust during handling
- Excellent opacity, gloss and printability for flexographic and gravure systems.
- Available shades:
 - 130 PG – Pale Gold
 - 130 RPG – Rich Pale Gold
 - 130 RG – Rich Gold

SPECIFIED CHARACTERISTICS

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| • Water coverage (*) | 9,500 - 11,400 cm ² /g |
| • Maximum retention in # 325 Mesh (*) | 0.5% |
| • Minimum solid content | 99,2% |
| • Maximum metallic pigment content | 94% |
| • Resin content | 5% |

(*)- the information refer to the bronze powder batch used to produce the pellet.

INFORMATIVE CHARACTERISTIC

- | | |
|--|------------|
| • Average Particles Size (D50 - Malvern) | 16 microns |
|--|------------|

Typical Uses

- Printing ink for flexography and gravure.

Before using the product, we recommend that you consult the safety information, including the adequate handling and transport, which are available in the product's Material Safety Data Sheet – MSDS. The information mentioned in this technical bulletin represents our current level of knowledge and experience, but shall not be considered as a guarantee. It is the user's responsibility to assure the adequate use of the product, since Aldoro will not accept liability on any type of loss or damage which may arise due to the use of this information or application of the product. Aldoro reserves itself the right of changing, without prior notice, any data contained in this bulletin, resulting from adjustment, development or evolution of the production process.
